

Product Warranty and Returns Guide

Purpose: This file is part of a sample multi-document project for testing API-key protected RAG upload, indexing, semantic search, chat answers, and source citations.

Overview

This guide explains product warranty coverage, return eligibility, replacement conditions, refund timelines, and customer support process.

Warranty and returns are handled according to product category, purchase proof, issue type, and usage condition.

Warranty Coverage

Standard electronic products include a one-year limited warranty from the date of purchase.

Accessories such as cables, chargers, and adapters include a six-month limited warranty unless otherwise mentioned on the invoice.

Warranty covers manufacturing defects, power failure caused by internal faults, and non-physical component malfunction.

Product Category	Warranty Period
Electronics	One year limited warranty
Accessories	Six months limited warranty
Replacement Unit	Remaining original warranty or ninety days, whichever is longer

Return Eligibility

Customers may request a return within seven calendar days of delivery if the product is unused, undamaged, and includes original packaging.

Opened products may be eligible for replacement if a verified manufacturing defect is found during inspection.

Refund Timeline

Approved refunds are initiated within five to seven business days after the returned product passes inspection.

Refunds are sent to the original payment method. Bank processing time may vary by payment provider.

Warranty Exclusions

Warranty does not cover physical damage, water damage, unauthorized repair, misuse, normal wear and tear, or missing serial numbers.

Products without valid purchase proof may be rejected for warranty service.
